

Sub-Tropical House

We are now in the sub-tropical house. Find the plants behind the bars – these are carnivorous plants. This means that they eat insects (because they live in poor soil). Can you see the different ways that they attract and catch their food?

Read the poem called 'The Pitcher Plant'

This kind of poem, in which each pair of lines rhymes, is called 'rhyming couplets'.

 Write in this square the first letter of both Pitcher and Plant:

p

Read the poem called 'The Sundew'

In this rhyming couplet the lines rhyme whether you read it downwards or across!

 In this box write the first letter of the word that tells us how many flies were in the poem:

o

Tropical House

We have now arrived in the tropical rainforest (the jungle), where it's hot, wet and steamy. Can you tell the difference between here and the sub-tropical house? Look in the pool; can you see the fish, the Koi Carp? Watch the carp swimming past. What do they remind you of?

 Complete these similes to describe the fish. You can choose words from the boxes or think of your own similes.

The carp are _____

as bright as jewels	as scaly as snakes	as wiggly as worms
---------------------	--------------------	--------------------

They swim in the pool like _____

ghosts	submarines	sausages	secrets	sharks
--------	------------	----------	---------	--------

Japanese Garden

Finally we're in Japan. Go and see the Bonsai Collection. What is unusual about these plants? Why do you think some of them are inside cages?

Read the haiku poems in the Japanese Garden

A haiku is written in a special way. The first line has 5 syllables, the second line 7 syllables and the third line 5 syllables. Check that the haiku poems are correct by counting the syllables on your fingers as you read the words.

 Look for the large wind chimes in front of the shelter. Write the first letter of the tree in which the chimes are hanging:

m

Now rearrange the letters to make a word!
